Bedtime Tango

When it is time for bed and I don't want to go,
That moment seems the perfect time for dancing the Tango.
I tango 'round my room, I dance with great finesse.
I tango 'til my mother says, "Stop dancing, it's bedtime.
It's bedtime, stop dancing."

When it is time for bed and I don't want to go,
That moment seems the perfect time for reading a story.
I like the one the best about the dinosaur.
I read until my mother says, "Stop reading, it's bedtime.
It's bedtime, stop reading."

When it is time for bed and I don't want to go,
That moment seems the perfect time for playing, for playing.
I play with all my toys that are not put away.
I play until my mother says, "Stop playing, it's bedtime.
It's bedtime, stop playing."

I tango and I read and play,
But most of all I like to tango. ("Stop dancing.")
But most of all I like to tango.
Good night.
Good night.
Good night.
