This is what folks are saying about Donna & Andy performances in elementary schools

“The Performance was excellent and enjoyed immensely by the students and staff. Very engaging and interactive, the students loved it.”

Liz Bailey, Principal

“Donna and Andy were great! We would highly recommend their performance to any school.”

Colleen Winchester, Vice Principal

“My students loved the performance and performers. Audience participation was fabulous (even from grade 8). Donna & Andy went out of their way to sign autographs and gave lots of positive feedback to students. They had great Donna & Andy stickers ready for student helpers and participants. They attended a gr. 6/7 class after the performance and answered questions from students about composing and music and instruments.

Besides a strong musical performance, both Donna & Andy were very personable with students. Donna was adept at dealing with less than appropriate questions from students (one student tried to guess her age). They provided a great opportunity to purchase materials and provided the school with a set of their CDs before the performance. I would highly recommend these performers to any school.”

Arlene Pineo, Music Specialist

“My students loved this concert. It was funny, participatory and well-paced. Donna & Andy know how to entertain kids! They are also great musicians who inspire kids with music composition and their ability to play several instruments. Fabulous!”

Jane Hawketts, Gr. 3 Teacher

“An excellent interactive music presentation. Entire audience engaged, participating and singing along.”

Angie Debertin, Gr. 3 Teacher

“Many thanks for your wonderful performance. Your high quality presentation was enjoyed by students and staff alike. The teachers were “rolling in the aisles” several times through your show. Along with the rich humour, your show is musically strong and is a delight to experience. Keep up the great work.”

Allan Gaskin, Principal

“Thanks so much for coming to two of my schools. I’ve heard nothing but positive comments about your wonderful show. Several teachers said your show was the best presentation they’ve ever seen for children. They had such a great time talking about lego, and stinky socks and grandmothers.....and everything. The kids are STILL excited. One boy (grade 2) told me he set a trap for Ed the Invisible Dragon in his bedroom. He put all of his little green plastic army men on the floor and if they get knocked over, he knows Ed was in his room visiting him. Another girl told me Invisible Ed was in her bedroom, because her bedroom blind fell off the window frame, and no one was in her room, so---it had to be ED.

I’ve had several other Ed sightings at our school. Some students are even wearing Invisible Glasses so they can spot him. It is so fun to watch them be kids. You really brought out the best in them.”

Crystal Hanson, Music Specialist

Teachers enjoy Donna's music.

A long time music teacher said

Donna, you have an amazing gift of writing memorable music. I always knew that, as the primary or junior choir students heard your songs for the first time on the accompanying CD, they'd almost instantly fall in love with them. The lyrics and melodies ... always staying in their mind and voice. As a result, the young people have always performed them well and because the topics or themes touched their hearts, it also touched the ears/hearts of the listeners. You have a wonderful gift! Your materials were always a treasure trove to find and use. I was always grateful to find new materials for the ... school students.

Another successful concert

At our recent Grade 3-6 Christmas Concert we performed your song "Raise Up Your Voices" as our closing number with all 200 students singing. I was inspired to do this after attending your session at the NSMEA conference. All 200 students were in the Gym. The grade 6 and Grade 4 classes [around 100 students] were up on the stage which is raised and the grade 5 and grade 3 classes [again around 100] on the floor, visually below the other classes. The call and response went from the group on the floor to the group on the stage. As soon as the choreography started you could feel the audience really getting into it. As the last note sounded and everyone's hand shot up into the air the audience spontaneously rose as one into an extended standing ovation. What an amazing feeling that was for the kids. I just wanted to share this with you and wish you the best of the season.

From a music professional about one of Donna's Reading sessions.

What appealed to me about this particular reading session was the quality of lyrics, melodic contours, and vocal harmonies! Donna writes for a range of levels and choral ensembles - from elementary unison choirs, middle school SSA choirs, to high school and community SATB ensembles. Whatever the level, one can be assured that the music is of the highest quality. As a writer, Donna imbues her texts with messages that are thought provoking, and inspiring. Singers and audience alike are challenged to reflect on the message. Donna's playful side gives birth to hilarious and affectionate songs that children continue to sing long after the concert is over.
